Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notice" free any more than a merchant can take over his customer's free gifts of dry goods or stock. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls

upon THE LEADER for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppers.

Excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for ordinary notices, reduction of 50 per cent. All notices must be paid for in advance, and the advertiser will be responsible for the cost of the notice. This, however.

Does Not Include

notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for business notices in THE LEADER is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a five-line notice inserted in the paper. "I'll bill you about it," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets to bill about it. The notice runs for two months—10 times—the bill is $12.50. When he finds it out, he says "a 'sack' and a controversy," followed by a long and tedious explanation. He has a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant to all concerned.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

If you have an item of news, please call up THE LEADER, Telephone 33, and send it in.

We Must Make Room

In anticipation of a big fall trade, and realizing that goods pertaining to our lines will advance, (a great many have already), we bought early and largely. We are already beginning to receive shipments. Moreover it will not be long before our great line of Men's shoes will come in, so you see we must make room. Now, if you will look in our windows and see the line of suits we are offering at $10 you will assist us in making room. All of our Fancy Cheviot Suits, in Cheviots, Plaids, Stripes, etc., suits that we sold at $18, $16.50 and $15, go in this sale.

No house in the state ever did or ever will offer a line of Suits like these for the price.

:- $10.00!

It is the greatest sacrifice sale we ever made, but as our patrons will be benefited, and it secures us room and money, we will only be too glad to have you take advantage of this sale. We have no room to quote prices on our more medium grades, but the entire stock will be sold at proportionate prices.

Please bear in mind this: No Suit will be sent out on approval. No Suit will be charged. Only :-: CASH!

Will buy the goods during this sale. Money, however, will be cheerfully returned if goods don't suit upon home examination.

Yesterday's Times-Star contained the following paragraph: "John Schaele, who fills the position of Agent for the C. and O. L. and the Adams Express Company at Mentor on the C. and O. road in Campbell county, made application Wednesday morning for permission to carry firearms. He presented a sworn statement that his life has been repeatedly threatened, and that he has reason to fear personal violence while en route from the station to his residence at Adams. The Judge, under the new law, was powerless to grant such a privilege, but to meet the emergency, Judge Bennett swore the Agent in as a County Patrolman, which gives him the privilege asked for." Mr. Schaele is well known in this city, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaele of the West End.

Mr. George E. Strawder of Lawrence Creek and Mrs. Mary C. Walker of this city were married last evening at the Washington Baptist Church by Rev. Johnson. After the ceremony the couple drove to this city, and this morning left on the colored excursion train for a day's stay among their friends at Mt. Sterling. George is a nephew of our own Market Street Strawder, and is a first-class young man, whose many friends, both white and colored, wish all the happiness and prosperity that should attend those who are faithful.

Near Stony Point in Bourbon county there lives a colony of Seventh Day Adventists. The doctrine was first preached in Bourbon by a man from Michigan several years ago, but now the sect numbers nearly 300 souls. They are mostly tenants living on the farms of wealthy citizens and are energetic and law-abiding people. They refuse to take part in politics because they consider it demoralizing and corrupt. Recently thirty persons were baptized and embraced the belief. The meetings were formerly held at the Stony Point Church, but are now held at the homes of the members.

HAPPILY WEDDED

Mr. Lee Hauke and Miss Cora Lowry Joined For Life.

MANY HANDSOME PRESENTS.

Yesterday afternoon in the Church of the Nativity the marriage ceremony uniting Mr. Frank Lee Hauke and Miss Cora Lowry was said by the Rector of the Parish, the Rev. D. D. Chapin. Impressively beautiful as is this divinely sanctioned word picture, it was, amid its surroundings upon this occasion, even more so, the reverend sir, in his ministerial robes, insignia of holy office, standing with patriarchal mien and solemnly spoke the words which bind into one for life (we trust) the two hearts which have by the subtle influence of love long ago congealed into an affinity which shall disperse all differences, eradicate all woes and put away forever the things which make for pain in the present life.

The Kings Daughters, a Church-working organization of which the sweet girl who upon this occasion assumed the conspicuous and responsible position of bride and of which she is and has been a most devoted and loyal member, beautifully decorated the sacred edifice until the whole resembled a veritable flower garden, for not only palms and ferns and blooming plants lent their greens and grace, but mingling, nestling close to each were roses, hollyhocks, carnations and sweet peas, the graceful smilax, waving asparagus, purple tinged southern willow clung and twined about pillar and rail in Edenic wealth and clustering prodigiously, so that chancel, porch and sacred rail with altar, Reredos and Lectern, were regal in their dress of tints, old Nature's fabric surely, soft lights from silvered candles shown, assisting mellow-tinged canopies streaming in through cathedral windows, giving to the interior and to the bridal party an effect beautiful in the extreme and omening happiest, brightest years to follow, while to the contracting party it transfigured their eyes, it seemed like the Garden of Eden, filled with the presence of God. whose voice, through the Presbyter, had sanctified this union.

Promptly at the hour announced the Wedding March rolled out from the great organ, deeply played and soulfully rendered by Miss Katherine Miller, whose skill and touch are but the natural results of practice, ability and endowment. At once the large congregation rose as a mark of obedience to the sacred transaction, while from the ante-chamber came the bridal procession thus: Mr. Lewis M. McCarthy and Mr. J. P. Hocker of Lancaster, Ky.; the bride with her sister Miss Lydia, followed by Mr. Thomas Kincaid of Covington and Mr. Harry C. Curran. With marching tread and slow step they moved up the center aisle of the Church. Reseaching the chancel the tableau was formed to await the completion of the rites. From the robing-room the groom approached the side of his soon to be bride, and then the organ peals died to a faint, distant sound, and the echo was as of voices proclaiming the benediction of angels while the ceremony proceeded. The whole service being said, the blessing was given and forth to leave the Church the newly-wedded left, closely followed by the ushers and maid. At the door carriages were in waiting, and entering the wedding party were whisked to the C. and O. Station, where at 3:25 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Hauke took the train for a honeymoon trip before assuming the domestic relations which shall be theirs upon their return to Maysville.

The bride's dress was a stylish, beautifully-made suit of light tan broadcloth, hat and gloves to match, and thus attired she was a lovely, womanly maiden, an honor to any man and a rare jewel to own. She is most popular indeed, for no girl in a long time has married who has been the recipient of so many really elegant, useful and ornamental gifts. The hat embraces nearly enough to furnish a house from attic to cellar, with cash, bric-a-brac, pictures and a wardrobe costly, beautiful and varied.

Mr. Hauke is a Maysville boy, born and raised in our midst. He is well and favorably known, and for his geniality, energy and artistic talent numbers his

If Nominated, Hon. W. G. Dearing Will Run For Circuit Judge.

In response to a question propounded by the Editor of The Flemingburg Gazette to W. G. Dearing, as to whether he would accept the nomination for Circuit Judge, he said that if the Republicans nominated him he would accept; that he was not seeking the nomination and had not asked it, and had insisted upon the selection of another man, but he had received so many letters from all over the District insisting that he should accept the nomination, that he had consented to do so, and if nominated he would enter actively upon the canvass and try and win the fight.

The Ripley Postmaster has orders to advertise for bids for carrying the mail on a new route established between Hiett and Ripley, O., three times a week.

Last November T. B. Wilson of Tilton took up an estray horse. He advertised the horse for a month or two but received no reply to the advertisement. He had the horse appraised, the appraisers fixing its value at $14. After feeding and caring for the horse for about four months some one came along in the night and spirited away the animal, which has not been seen or heard of up to this time. But now comes Mr. June Pane of Paris and says the horse is one he traded to a gentleman at Wrights, Burton county and that the gentleman would like to have his horse, which was stolen from him last October. Mr. Wilson says the bill for appraisement, feeding, etc., amounts to $26, and if Mr. Pane and his friend is willing to pay this little bill he will gladly pay them $14, the value of the horse.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA! AMERICANS!

"The evidence I have obtained from all sections of the country, from the press, from callers personally and correspondence, all points in one direction, an actual improvement in trade and manufactures."—Secretary Gage.

The people who were hoping at President McKinley's election looking to international bimetallic action and predicting that it would be a failure, are considerably surprised by the recent developments. A dispatch from London quotes The National Review as saying that it is able to announce that "England's reply will be that the government is willing to reopen India Mints and to make a further substantial contribution to the rehabilitation of silver by extending its use in England, by increasing the legal tender of silver, making silver the basis of notes, empowering the Bank of England to use its silver reserve, and that material assistance and strong moral support will be given to the object which the United States and France have in view."

The coal miners' strikes has brought to the public attention some interesting and important facts as to the effect of the Wilson Tariff Law upon this industry, and upon the miners themselves. The Wilson Law reduced the rates of duty on coal from 75 cents per ton to 40 cents per ton. This is just about the amount of reduction in miners' wages, of which complaint is now being made and emphasized by the strikes announced for July 4th. President RATCHFORD of the United Mine Workers' Association, in a communication to The New York Herald, indicates that the wages of miners have been reduced since 1893 an average of 30 cents per ton, which is just about the amount of the reduction in duties made by the Wilson Law. Curiously this reduction in wages is thus coincident as to time and amount with the reduction in Tariff. That the reduction in wages was a direct result of the Tariff is, however, accurately shown in another and equally striking series of facts. Prior to the enactment of the Wilson Law, the Eastern cities and manufacturing establishments were supplied with coal largely from the Virginia and West Virginia mines. As soon as the Wilson Law was enacted, however, coal from Nova Scotia invaded the Eastern market, driving out the Virginia and West Virginia product, and compelled the mines of that section to find a market elsewhere. The result was that their coal went West instead of East as it formerly had done, and with reduced railroad rates was laid down in the markets of Cincinnati, Chicago and other Western cities at such low rates that a coal war, followed by a railroad rate war, was precipitated. The natural result of this and the reductions in prices which followed was a reduction in the wages of coal miners, all of which is thus clearly traceable to the Wilson Law and its reduction in duties on coal. Happily the new Tariff Bill now pending restores practically the McKinley Law rates, and there is good reason to believe that the miners, as well as other laboring men, will soon feel the effects of reduced Protection and restored prosperity.

Those who will receive or entertain during the coming week are kindly invited to accept Saturday's Luncheon with an announcement of fact.

O, what a night! Pale luna shone with silvery rays out from a heaven as clear as the voice of Nature, while zephyrs cool and breezes gentle fanned human cheeks into crimson blushes as charming as they were beautiful, and gayest youth on winged feet sped on in mazy whirling to rhythmic cadences, tinkling sweet and all inspiring in effect, giving joy and happiness and speeding all too fast the hours away, which otherwise went so heavily. The thought is the outgrowth of last night's dance, when the ladies and gentlemen formerly youthful society gave each other in the breeze and some of the building owned by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hunter, situated in the rear of their mill, some seventy five persons gathered to enjoy the occasion, most of whom were dancers, but a sufficient coterie of chaperons graced the event to give dignity, surveillance and a proper tone to this pleasant way of meeting together. The music was furnished by Miss Anna Martin's orchestra, and for tastefulness of music, excellent time and sweetness of sound could not but be an inspiration to graceful forms and nimble feet. It was nearly morn when the last strains died away, and some there who lingered yet to catch the faintest echo to the magic sound of wrought-up imaginations danced on until the sun peeped in upon the festivities, warning them by a rude and shocking alarm that day had spread its sterner light, dispelling the glamour and charm of a night's revel. Then with weariness and regret the clashing bells and handsome beaux went home to grapple with the cares which infest the day. Many strange faces were noted—visiting young girls—who just now are fairly swimming in the surf of social enjoyment. Beautiful, dainty toilet, many-lined and varied in design were visible, forming a frame of textile appropriate, which accentuated the fresh, pure beauty of lovely maidens of which the "Bon Ton" Club can boast. One therefore will readily grant to last night's ball the palm for enjoyment, beauty and pleasure.

Senate Conferees Disposed to Re-sent Speaker Reed's Efforts

To Influence Their Action and Denounce His Interference.

Contending Forces on the Wood Schedule Have Practically Reached an Agreement—Outcome for a Final Agreement Said to Be Far Off.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The senate conferees are disposed to resent the efforts of Speaker Reed to influence the action of the conferees. The senators are inclined to construe the speaker's participation in the proceedings as unwarranted and are apparently more determined than before his attitude was made known to his constituents. The conferees on the wool schedule, the carpet manufacturers and the wool growers, outside the conferees, have practically reached an agreement which it is presumed will be ratified by the conferees. The conferees on the wool schedule, the carpet manufacturers and the wool growers, outside the conferees, have practically reached an agreement which it is presumed will be ratified by the conferees.

The conferees remained in session until 10 o'clock Wednesday, and then adjourned until Thursday, omitting the usual evening session. They had not yet reached a point where they could call in the democratic conferees, but all said progress had been made. It was impossible to say whether the senate or house had the advantage of the day's work. Both sides looked weary and troubled.

The conferees on a final agreement was said to be at a great distance. WASHINGTON, July 13.—Aim. Seligman having accomplished the object for which he stopped at Tangier on his way to the Western Mediterranean, has left that port and arrived at Gibraltar on his flag ship, the Raleigh. The Raleigh had preceded him, and arrived at the Rock Tuesday.

At this point in the discussion, Mr. Carlisle spoke impressively, and his statement was received with honor, and endorsement of the Cleveland administration. The delegates arose to their feet, and cheer after cheer was sent up as he stood, smiling and waving his hand. When the expression of enthusiasm had exhausted its force, Mr. Carlisle spoke again, and his statement was received with honor, and endorsement of the Cleveland administration.

J. R. HINDMAN.

Of Adult County, Named for Clerk of the Court of Appeals by the Kentucky National Democratic Convention.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 13.—J. R. Hindman, Adult county was named Wednesday on the first ballot for clerk of the court of appeals by the Kentucky National Democratic Convention. The convention adopted resolutions declaring for a sound, stable and conservative course, and in the boxes among them Mrs. W. C. P. Breckinridge and Mr. Henry W. Turner.

The national democratic party has, by Wednesday's presidential election, and the work of that convention, evidenced its determination for a distinctive and independent existence. It is a minority party, as yet not pronounced by some, but it is a future, the development of Wednesday's convention shows that the Kentucky democracy is becoming a distinct and independent force in the political life of the state.

The first of the distinguished delegates to arrive was United States Senator William H. Hunt, Jr., who was greeted by a host of applause. Similar greeting was given to Mr. W. C. P. Breckinridge, who was greeted by a host of applause. Similar greeting was given to Mr. W. C. P. Breckinridge, who was greeted by a host of applause.

Hon. A. J. Carroll, of Louisville, secretary of the state executive committee, acting in the absence of Chairman Davis, called the convention to order. Rev. C. E. Crick, of Louisville, read a prayer from the Episcopal service.

Mr. Carroll formally launched proceedings in the afternoon. After that, the speaker of the day, Mr. W. C. P. Breckinridge, was called to the front. He was greeted by a host of applause. Similar greeting was given to Mr. W. C. P. Breckinridge, who was greeted by a host of applause.

At this point in the discussion, Mr. Carlisle spoke impressively, and his statement was received with honor, and endorsement of the Cleveland administration. The delegates arose to their feet, and cheer after cheer was sent up as he stood, smiling and waving his hand.
